Course overview

This two-day webinar offers a comprehensive review of Pharmaceutical Regulatory Affairs in China. It provides participants with the essential knowledge and understanding of the regulatory requirements for conducting clinical trials in the People's Republic of China (PRC) and for registering pharmaceutical products for the Chinese market.

While the primary focus is on the PRC, the webinar also covers regulatory frameworks in Hong Kong (Special Administrative Region), with brief insights into Macau. Detailed information is provided regarding the registration of pharmaceutical products in both PRC and Taiwan (Republic of China, ROC).

The course also examines pharmaceutical maintenance and other regulatory matters, primarily focusing on innovative products, while including relevant information about generic products.

Please note: This webinar does not cover Medical Devices, Immunology drugs, or Vaccines.

All presentation materials will be provided for personal use prior to the webinar. After the event, participants will receive a summary document containing key points, including additional insights shared through the interactive chat functions during the live sessions.

Benefits of attending

- Gain access to a wealth of information, which would otherwise be time-consuming to research
- Exchange practical experiences with peers and professionals
- Examine relevant case studies based on real challenges and opportunities
- Enhance knowledge and seek reassurance in solving day-to-day regulatory problems
- Participate in frequent Q&A sessions that contribute to enhanced know-how and understanding
- Receive guidance on optimising the handling of regulatory situations and challenges

Who should attend

Primarily, this webinar is intended for Pharmaceutical Regulatory Affairs professionals interested in working with China (PR China, including the Hong Kong SAR and Macau SAR), as well as Taiwan (Republic of China), to receive updates on recent developments and to exchange information or seek guidance on current challenges.

Regulatory Affairs professionals who are new to dealing with China and the region, and who require extensive background information and training.

This webinar may also be of interest to other team members from related line functions, including:

- Marketing
- Medicine
- Logistics
- Production, etc., to gain a general overview and introduction
