Course overview

Are you fully up to speed with the latest SCCs International Data Transfer Agreement, ICO Addendum and how BCRs work? Are you conversant with the differences between the EU Transfer Impact Assessment and the UK Data Protection Test, as now codified by DUAA 2025? One wrong move in international data transfers can trigger regulatory investigations, hefty fines and operational chaos. Are you confident your business is protected?

The post-Brexit data transfer landscape has fundamentally shifted, creating a complex web of compliance obligations that catch even experienced professionals off guard due to the ongoing divergence between the EU GDPR and the UK GDPR. With the UK's International Data Transfer Agreement and new Data Protection Test (DPT), businesses face challenges navigating between UK requirements and EU requirements, whether in terms of different adequacy decisions, EU Schrems II tests and the UK requirements recently codified in DUAA 2025 which makes so many changes to the UK GDPR.

This isn't just about paperwork - it's about business survival in a globally connected economy. Every email to an overseas colleague, every cloud storage solution, every international customer interaction potentially triggers transfer obligations. The UK has now firmly established its own mechanisms separate from the EU's approach in a variety of areas, creating a constantly evolving compliance landscape where yesterday's solutions may be tomorrow's violations.

This course will enable you to master the critical frameworks that determine your compliance destiny. You'll gain a comprehensive understanding of territoriality and extra-territoriality principles, navigate the differences between the UK and EU GDPR, be updated on DUAA requirements and ICO guidance as they relate to international data transfers (including adequacy decisions, BCRs, SCCs, the IDTA and the ICO Addendum, EU TIAs and the UK DPT) – all of which can make or break your international operations. Above all, you will understand permitted transfer methods including the intricate requirements of the latest EU Standard Contractual Clauses and UK IDTA (and the ICO Addendum).

This session delivers practical, immediately actionable guidance on how the EU SCCs and the UK ICO's International Data Transfer Agreement work in practice, when the EU addendum applies, and how to structure your data flows to minimise risk while maintaining operational efficiency.

The organisations that master these frameworks now will have significant competitive advantages as global data flows become increasingly regulated. Those that don't, risk finding themselves unable to operate effectively in our interconnected world.

Presenter

Mark Weston

Mark Weston has run his own law firm, Weston Legal, since 1 January 2024. He is also a consultant at Hill Dickinson LLP where he joined in February 2016 as a partner and Head of its Commercial, TMT & IP Practice. Before that, he was a partner and Head of the Commercial/IP/IT Team at Matthew Arnold & Baldwin LLP and before that, he spent several years at Baker & McKenzie in London and Chicago and has also previously been seconded to Hewlett Packard and other technology businesses. He changed role to become a consultant in Hill Dickinson's London office in January 2024.

Expertise: Mark's practice covers both non-contentious and contentious matters in all areas of commercial law, intellectual property law, information technology law, Internet, electronic commerce and on-line services law. He specialises in commercial and Tech issues. Mark is used as a 'trusted adviser' by many clients in all sorts of businesses and often acts as 'private practice in-house counsel' for many clients. He specialises in tech and internet businesses.

Clients: Just some of Mark's more well-known clients include Elstree Film Studios, RTL Group S.A., Sykes Cottages, Retailcorp Brands LLC, The Gulf Marketing Group, Moneynetint Limited and the BBC.

Some detail: Mark has extensive experience in advising clients on all manner of commercial matters (such as business planning and solutions, franchising, distribution, agency and marketing) through branding and intellectual property exploitation and licensing, to advice and documentation regarding hardware and software issues (such as development, licensing, maintenance and distribution, SaaS and cloud, Internet transactional solutioning, B2B, B2C and B2G electronic commerce, S-commerce and M-Commerce, social media, outsourcing, facilities management, procurement, IT policies, data protection (privacy), GDPR and freedom of information issues as well as artificial intelligence (AI)). He has a particular expertise in new digital business and revenue streams. He is also experienced in dealing with software disputes and IT litigation. The increasingly extensive media side of his practice relates primarily to publishing (both real world and digital content), to games and gaming platforms (and particularly transmedia technologies), advising companies about their advertising onscreen, online and in print and managing their public communications strategies generally (dealing with the CMA and ASA in the process) – and also a smattering of television, film and music exploitation. Recently he has been very active in AI advice.

More unusual:

Mark has previously spent several months on secondment to Hewlett Packard and he has also been seconded to assist in the legal problems arising in new technology companies such as Symbian. From 2000 to 2001, Mark was resident in the Chicago office of Baker & McKenzie advising US clients on European and UK aspects of IT and electronic commerce law and practice.

Mark is the author of the Legal Practice Companion, a parallel text book used at several law schools, the editor of the IP and Media Law Companion as well as the rest of the Companion series of books published by Bloomsbury Professional, Tottels, Cavendish Publishing and Oxford University Press. He has noted numerous reports for the IT Law Reports and is widely published in Computing, Computers & Law, Computer Law & Security Report, IT Law Today, Intellectual Property World, Solicitors Journal and many other journals both online and offline. Mark has also authored articles syndicated in the national and trade press and is regularly quoted in national newspapers and is heard on radio as an expert in his fields. Mark is the author of the Business Names on the Internet chapter in the PLC Ecommerce Manual as well as numerous other articles on various Commercial & IT law topics.

Mark lectures regularly on all Commercial, IP and IT law topics, including at the IBC IT 'Summer School' Programme in Cambridge, England; the Falconbury and MBL two-day and three-day Commercial Contracts seminars (run several times a year) and IT Contracts seminars (run three times a year) in London; and he has previously lectured at the Annual On-line & Internet Commerce Law Institute seminar in Chicago and tutored at University College London. He also runs a programme of bespoke training schemes on commercial law, IP law, IT law, AI law and data law as well as soft skills programmes such as negotiation skills and presentation skills.

Finally, you may have seen that Mark likes blogging and writing books, which are available at all good bookshops! He also appears regularly on BBC1 (usually providing advice on-screen to BBC Watchdog) and also on Sky News as a legal commentator, as well as trying to avoid the huge quantity of pink powder the TV make-up girls want to apply to his increasingly receding hairline.
