Course overview

Navigating the complexities of the UK Bribery Act can be challenging – but it's also essential to have an in-depth understanding of one of the most influential anti-corruption laws globally.

The UK Bribery Act applies directly to all UK companies and individuals, regardless of where the bribery occurs. UK companies are subject to it simply by virtue of being incorporated or carrying on business in the UK.

The Act creates a specific corporate offense of 'failure to prevent bribery' - companies can be prosecuted even if senior management didn't know about the bribery, unless they can prove they had 'adequate procedures' in place to prevent it.

This comprehensive one-day programme will equip you with the practical knowledge and tools needed to protect your organisation from bribery risks while maintaining competitive business practices.

The UK Bribery Act is one of the world's strictest anti-corruption laws, with unlimited fines and severe reputational consequences for non-compliance. Unlike many international anti-bribery laws, it applies to all UK companies regardless of where business is conducted, covers both public and private sector bribery, and holds organisations criminally liable for failing to prevent bribery by associated persons.

The core topics covered include:

- Key offences under the Act and how they apply to your business
- Corporate and individual liability under the Act
- The principles of Adequate Procedures to help prevent bribery
- The Economic Crime and Corporate Transparency Act 2023
- Identifying risks and red flags
- Compliance and corporate governance frameworks
- Enforcement and penalties for individuals and organisations

During this interactive programme the expert trainer will use a combination of theory sessions, practical workshops, real-world case studies and group discussions to help embed the learning.

The expert trainer, Manoj Nair, also presents training on the Foreign Corrupt Practices Act.
