Presenter

Claire Mould

With over thirty years' experience of working in and with the public, corporate, and charitable sectors, Claire has expertise in providing strategic, analytical, emotionally intelligent solutions that engender, inform, facilitate and embed growth through compassionate leadership.

Extending from post-doctoral studies on neurology, specifically the link between emotional intelligence and cognitive intelligence, Claire has written, presented, and worked at a national, European, and international level and has published several research papers and books.

In her previous time as a CEO of various charities, she has practical experience in the art of compassionate leadership and has developed a real passion for helping individuals and organisations to optimise their growth potential.

In addition to her work as a facilitator, delivering sessions and presenting, Claire also works as an independent consultant providing emotionally intelligent strategic solutions, embedding compassionate leadership and maximising growth.

In her spare time, Claire runs for mental health and wellbeing, including running marathons and ultra marathons.

Reviews

Everything was great—I really enjoyed the webinar. The content was clear and useful, and the speaker presented it very well. I was hoping to gain a deeper understanding of the topic, and practical insights I could apply. I feel that the webinar fully met my expectations— I am now more confident in applying what I've learned. The service was excellent and everything was well-organized. I found the session very informative and valuable for my work.
