Course overview

Is your business operating system built for change - or getting in the way of it?

As business environments shift rapidly, governance must keep pace. This session examines how to evolve your organisation's core structures for responsiveness and integrity.

The expert trainer will cover:

- Why traditional governance creates rigidity and fragility and how this can change
- The dangers of centralised, hierarchical decision-making to be aware of
- Distributed, adaptive governance models that enable strategic agility
- Aligning ownership, decision rights, and accountability for long-term value creation
- Tools you can use now: Governance architectures for agility, coordination, and sustained performance
